Intercom System Could Make Farmer's Work Easier In Lac La Biche District

Although the day of pushbutton farming isn't here yet, farmers in the Lac la Biche district can benefit from some of the newest advances in the electronics field.

For instance, an easily-installed intercommunication system can keep a farmer in constant touch with his family, farm hands, chicken coop, milk house, sheep pen, farm shop or any other outlying buildings.

With a flick of a switch he can receive and reply to, important messages without interrupting his chores instead of taking time-consuming treks all over the farm.

In addition to the scores of uses they have around the house, these talk-listen combinations can be helpful around calving time. By merely switching both units to listen, the farmer can maintain a constant check on the animals in the barn to be sure that everything is all right.

They serve as an effective "burglar alarm", too, as in the case of a dairy farmer. Glancing out the window, he spied two suspicious-looking men enter his barn. Flicking the switch on the Teletalk station in the farmhouse, he shouted, "Beat it". The surprised prowlers fled in confusion.

These intercoms, which can pick up normal conversation at a distance of 30 feet, also serve as a safeguard since the farmer or any member of his family or crew can call for help immediately in case of an accident or any emergency.

D. Shank Heads PC Association

On Saturday evening, Jan. 10, a general meeting of the Progressive Conservative Association of Lac la Biche constituency was held in the York Hotel, Lac la Biche.

Jack Bigg, M.P., was the guest speaker. Mr. Bigg gave an interesting and informative report on his recent trip to Paris, where he attended the NATO conference, explaining the purpose and the work of NATO. Mr. Gregor, the organizer for northern Alberta, was also present and spoke to the representative group of the constituency. A question period followed.

A new executive was elected as follows: president, D. Shank of Plamondon; first vice-president, Mrs. W. Derkach of Venice; second vice-president, D. Stewart of Lac la Biche; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. H. Mawson of Lac la Biche.

This executive will act until the annual meeting is held on Feb. 26.

Whitefish Catch 145,460 Pounds

Some 156 commercial fishermen entered Primrose Lake air weapons range in northeastern Alberta when it was opened to fishing Dec. 20 to Jan. 4.

An estimated 145,460 pounds of whitefish were taken out of four lakes in the range north of Cold Lake, according to figures released by the Alberta department of lands and forests.

Fishermen took 114,480 pounds for export from Spencer Lake and 10,980 pounds from Ipiatic Lake. Last year 80,751 pounds were taken from Spencer and 2,750 from Ipiatic.

The department estimated 15,000 pounds had been taken from Primrose Lake and 5,000 from Burnt Lake.

During the two-week period the RCAF ceased bombing and gunnery practice. Every licensed fisherman had to sign an "acknowledgement of danger" form before entering the area.

Councillor Mike Maccagno was given permission to be absent from council meetings for the duration of the coming session of the provincial legislature.

Further correspondence was received concerning space for the parking of trucks, but no action was taken pending receipt of answer to certain letters.

The winter works program of the federal and provincial governments was again considered and council committees were asked to study the possibilities of undertaking projects under the scheme and report to next meeting of council.

Councillors Lobay, Tkachuk, Maccagno, McMillan and Hamar, and Mayor S. Hamar and Secretary F. D. Creighton were present for the meeting.

Cold Weather Halts Church Dedication

RICH LAKE — The official opening and dedication of the Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Rich Lake had to be cancelled last week because of the extremely cold weather. However, work crews continued to spend time on the church despite the sub-zero temperatures. The members of the Women's Auxiliary worked hard to complete the dossal curtains on time. Most other items were in readiness.

Bishop Pierce in his Deanery visitation confirmed James Chester, Gerald and Gail Warawa on Epiphany Eve in St. Andrew's Church. The Bishop planned to return for the dedication at Rich Lake on April 23.

Pastor of the church, The Rev. R. S. H. Greene of Lac la Biche announced that services would continue in the church every Sunday at 3 p.m.

PEOPLE IN PICTURES

SELECTED TO TAKE the official photographs of Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip for the royal tour next year, Donald McKague of Toronto considers the assignment a great challenge. He will have 1½ hours with the royal couple in London to make the portraits. He expects to make 10 or 12 different photographs, from which the Queen and Prince Philip will choose two or three for publication.

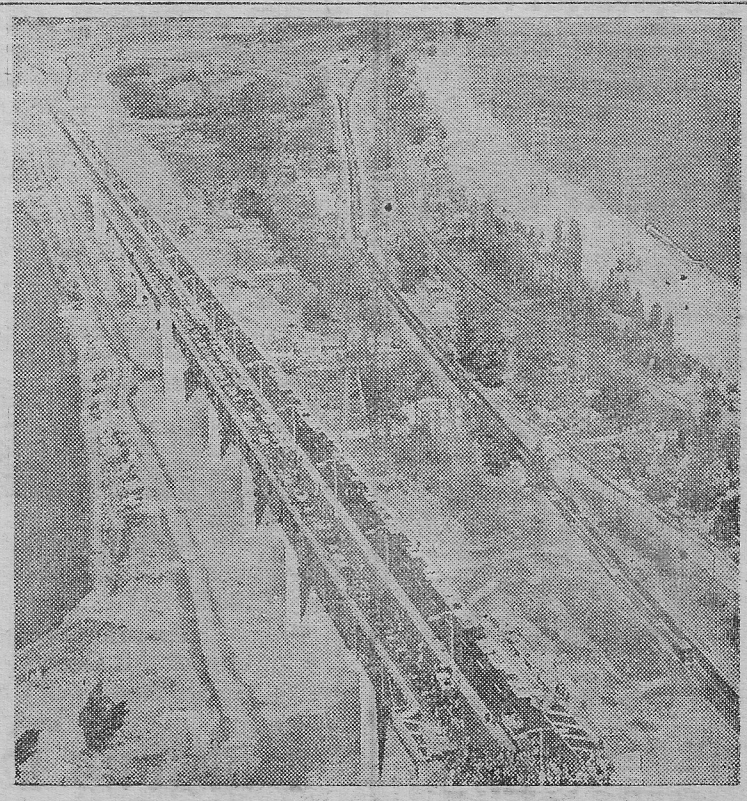
FOR A FEW MOMENTS, Prime Minister Diefenbaker was a Pakistan sheep herder. Presented with three sheep at the Khyber pass on the Pakistan border, Mr. Diefenbaker accepted the gifts, then, according to custom, returned them to the tribal chiefs.

STILL THE BEST VOTE-GETTER at the polls after four years as mayor, Nathan Phillips poses with his wife after the election, which saw him returned to office for two more years with more votes than his two opponents combined. He is the only mayor, with the exception of T. L. Church, the incumbent during the first world war, to serve more than four years as Toronto's chief magistrate.

CANADIAN CARL RICH, left and Professor Hermann Bruenner, director of the physiological department of the German Institute for Flight Medicine in Bonn, prepare a new space suit they jointly developed during the past seven years for a test in a pressure chamber. The tight-fitting suit is intended to protect plane crews if required to bale out of their crafts in altitudes from 20,000 to 30,000 meters. While the test shown here is done with a dummy inside the suit, members of the institute volunteered for similar tests inside pressure chambers.

WHEN MARTIN KOCH of Willowdale, Ont., was given a ticket for speeding at 41 mph after being trapped by police radar equipment, he decided to be a good Samaritan to fellow motorists. He has this sign lettered and showed it to motorists passing the spot where the police trap was set. But police took a critical view of Mr. Koch's behaviour and took him into custody and are considering laying a charge of obstructing.

ALBERTANS shivering in subzero weather will sympathize with Lilac Downs Lad, grand champion sheep of the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair, who is in danger of losing her winter coat. Believing it was too hot at the fair for the "champ", western exhibitors approached Charles Rae, Manitoba-born Toronto MP, standing left, to do the honors. Alderman Ross Perry, second from left, is being handed the shears. Others in the photo are: Douglas Johnson, Brandon, Man.; Reubenn Hamm, and John Church of Calgary; Richard Barton of Lethbridge, Alta.



A FEW MOMENTS AFTER a brief opening ceremony on Burlington Bay Skyway, traffic rolled across the four-lane elevated span to end one of the worst traffic bottlenecks in southern Ontario. The span was opened by Premier Frost who said that tolls from the Skyway would be used to build more bridges and super-highways throughout Ontario.

Lac La Biche Welding Course Can Save Farmers Much Valuable Time, Money

Lac la Biche district farmers who know the time-saving value of doing their own welding will be interested in the welding course being offered by the provincial government in March.

S. C. Powers, district agriculturist, says that breakdown of spring planting equipment always seems to occur when town repair shops are rushing at top speed to service district farmers.

These are the reasons that led to the development of limited input transformer electric arc welders designed especially for use on rural power lines, says Mr. Powers. Thousands of them have been sold in recent years and nobody can calculate the dollars, time and frustration which they have saved.

It's not difficult to learn to weld, as many farmers and farm boys have discovered. Although most electric welding is done on mild steel, it is by no means limited to this metal alone. By using special electrodes, cast iron and high carbon steel, as well as many of the alloy steels, also can be welded. Electric welders have many uses on farms and these are not limited to repairs alone.

In the repair field, however, farmers have used welders to build up worn cutting edges of plow shares or teeth of excavating buckets; to fix broken sickle bars and spokes; to remove rusty bolts and rivets, or to burn through pieces of metal which can't be cut in any other way. Repairs often can be made without removing the damaged part from the machine.

The list of new equipment which has been made and the old equipment which has been modified for special purposes is almost endless. Farmers have made such equipment as wagons and trailers, milk can trucks and racks, feed carts, elevators, buck racks and many other things. The electric welder is an indispensable tool on numerous farms and its use is growing steadily, in those areas where maintenance is a "must" to successful agricultural operations. The strength of a properly made weld is equal to, or greater than, that of the material welded. Where necessary, the weld can even be made water and air-tight.

THE Homemaker

By EDITH WITNEY

Planning to buy an electric sewing machine? With so many types and makes of sewing machines selling at different prices and suited for different purposes. It is difficult to know what will be a good buy.

Before you go shopping, consider the kind of sewing for which you will be using the machine. For plain sewing such as making simple garments, patching, mending and darning, a straight sewing machine is satisfactory. Many women prefer it for fine dress making and tailoring where machine made decoratings are not used.

In contrast, the swing needle or zig zag type machines are for specialty sewing such as decorative stitching, embroidering, finishing seams and buttonholes. These machines do the jobs intended for attachments that can be bought for straight sewing machines.

It's up to you to decide whether specialty stitching will be done often enough to warrant the added cost of such a mochine, which in most cases, is about $100.

Whether to buy a cabinet or portable machine in another important factor. A cabinet with well supported leaves and straight legs gives good sewing support and is ready for immediate use. The portable is the choice where space is limited or where the machine must be moved often.

More Gifts For New Year's Baby

SMOKY LAKE — There were three more donations for the New Year's Baby which include a dollar donation from Mrs. Verla Strashok; a stroller set from Mrs. Laura Cebuliak and the Hospital Auxiliary donated a Baby Record Book, which is given yearly to the New Year's Baby.

Sanitary Engineer OK's Town's Water

REDWATER — Mr. Hostler, sanitary engineer with the Sturgeon Health Unit, which looks after the town of Redwater's sanitary problems, was in Redwater recently making tests and examinations of the domestic water supply.

Mr. Hostler was acting on complaints of water discoloration by iron rust of water users on Redwater's townsite.

The water supply is quite safe and tests reveal that the discolorations are caused by corrosion of the cast iron pipes used as water trunk mains in the old part of the water supply system on the Imperial townsite. The town is now using "Calgon" water softener instead of caustic to treat the water supply. This has caused some extra black sedimentation to flow through the taps and users are reassured that this sedimentation is harmless.

Roiling of the water in the mains is sometimes caused by large quantities of water being drained off by the fire department or for the skating and curling rinks' usage.

This condition is only found on the townsite where the original water mains were laid before the residential district was part of the town. The extensions of the system all incorporate transite in the water distribution lines.

TOWN MINUTES

Federal Govt. Refuses Winter Works Assistance For Water Softener Plant

REDWATER — The application for a grant from the government for wakes for the proposed water softening and treatment plant construction was turned down by the federal government.

W. D. Isbister, assistant chief municipal inspector, informed the secretary-treasurer that the proincial government had passed the approval on to the federal government. However, the federal offer on winter works projects did not cover such construction, so the application for funds was not accepted.

Present at the regular meeting held Jan. 9 were Mayor Nick Syrnyk and Councillors Walter Malowany, Matt Stetsko, Mern Bykewich and Dan Bohachyk.

The secretary read the minutes of the previous meeting held on Dec. 4 and the financial statement as of Dec. 31, 1958. Councillor Matt Stetsko moved that both be adopted as read.

Mayor Nick Syrnyk moved that Councillor Walter P. Malowany be appointed deputy mayor. Councillor W. P. Malowany moved that the regular monthly council meetings for the town be held on the 1st Thursday of each month commencing at 2 o'clock in the town office.

APPOINTMENTS

Mr. Sidney Gee was again appointed assessor on the motion of Councillor Matt Stetsko, and the Alberta Department of Municipal Affairs will be notified of his appointment. Mr. T. T. Hantiuk was again appointed as official auditor for the town's business.

The contract with Redwater Utilities Ltd. of Calgary for the maintenance of the Water and Sewer systems was discussed. The Council will wait for information from Redwater Utilities at Calgary on this matter.

Councillor D. Bohacyk then made a motion that Mr. R. R. Hill of Redwater be again appointed as returning officer.

Councillor W. P. Malowany moved that nomination day to fill the vacancy occurring from the resignation of Councillor J. D. Turner be held on Jan. 28 from 11-12 in the morning at the town office.

J. Klem was officially hired as caretaker for the skating rink to replace the former caretaker.

The shack at the skating rink will be disposed of as it is not being used and serves no useful purpose at the present time. Arrangements for fire exits from the lavatories at the rink house will also be made.

Dave Williamson Has Varied Career

The family settled in the Valleyview and Sturgeon Lake districts. He has had a varied career as a farmer, hardrock miner, and author.

He has served his community well as a member of the East Smoky Divisional School board, one term as a councillor on the municipal council of Valleyview and has already put in one term as mayor.

He also ran as a Conservative candidate in the federal election for 1949 for the Peace River seat but was defeated.

Vilna WMS Plans Mexican Evening

The regular monthly meeting of Vilna United Cchurch WMS was held Sunday, Jan. 11, at the home of the president, Miss I. Newton. The president took the devotional service.

Natural Gas Discovered In Bellis Area

By William G. Mandzuik

WASEL — There is quite a steep sudden sloping hill extending for over a mile down to Wasel just several miles south of Bellis. As I drove down this hill (on which is located an historic church) a few days ago a rather unusual sight struck me. Situated close to the picturesque slopes of the North Saskatchewan River stood a farm home. Among the very attractive buildings were a modern home and dairy barn. It was a model example of a well planned, neatly kept farm home.

But there was something strange going on at the place, because a huge fire was burning right in the middle of the farm yard. At first I thought that some building was on fire. Closer examination showed flames shooting straight out of bare ground, on this warm, calm December 30th.

Checking with the farmer, George Manailo, I learned the fire was an ignited natural gas discovery.

Mr. Minailo told a fascinating story. For quite a number of years he said, they had been plagued by a water supply shortage for the very fine dairy herd which they have built up. The only source available was the river, but on account of its distance it was inconvenient for the stock.

A few years ago George Minailo determined that he was going to do something about it in order to ease the situation. He hired a deep well drilling rig, but instead of getting water, the crew struck a gusher of natural gas right in the yard and quite close to the house.

Today he still has no well for his dairy cows but says that he has plans for the near future to convert the gas to a paying proposition. After numerous financial and legal transactions with the proper authorities he believes he will be able to utilize the natural gas for all his general farm poses.

Bear Shot At Hylo

HYLO — Sergay Stasiewich and Metro Lewiski had a lot of excitement in trying to shoot a bear that was hibernating peacefully in his den on the north side of Hylo Lake. Using a long pole Sergay tried to scare the bear out while Metro stood, at some distance, with a gun. The disturbed bear, after some growling, shot out like a bolt, startling both men, but Metro managed to get in a couple of good shots which downed the animal. Two more shots were fired to make sure the bear was dead as they approached. The bear was thought to be about two years old for he was not very big.

Quite a number of bears were seen in this district last summer and fall and one marrauding animal was credited with killing three young calves on Bill Ouchar's farm and destroying oat stooks on John Coli's farm.

Grassland

The Grassland Rural Electrification Association reports that it has received from the Provincial Government a cheque for $27,000.

After a lapse of more than a year there is to be a District Nurse at Grassland. The new nurse is to arrive next week and the local committee are very busy getting the nurse's home in order.

Ted Leshchyshyn is a visitor in Edmonton.

Mrs. Dan Dorey is in Tofield visiting her sister, Mrs. Walter Tiedemann, who is confined to her home following a slight accident.

BANG'S VACCINATION UNDERWAY

S. C. Powers, district agriculturist, reports that the Bang's vaccination program commended on Wednesday, Jan. 14, with Dr. G. Bosnyak of St. Paul in charge.

On his first day out Dr. Bosnyak injected 75 calves with vaccine in the Plamondon district. He will continue vaccinating on Wednesday and Saturday of each week until all farms requesting this service have been covered.

The district agriculturist stated that in most cases farmers co-operated very well by having their animals confined and ready for the veterinary and in a few cases farmers had plowed trails through the heavy snow right up to their corrals to enable the veterinary to drive within feet of the corral to facilitate his work. Dr. Bosnyak was highly appreciative of this type of co-operation as it enabled him to stay on his strict schedule. There were, however, a few who were less concerned and had made little or no preparation and forced the veterinary and his assistants to spend considerable time rounding up the animals. At these places they also encountered blocked drive-ways which necessitated a considerable amount of shoveling to enable them to enter their yards.

Mr. Powers stated that all farmers received a card a few days in advance advising theim of the veterinary's date of arrival. Those who chose not to be fully prepared on that day may be passed by as Dr. Bosnyak has a very rigid schedule to follow to enable him to get to all farmers notified for that day.

There are apparently many cattlemen who have not made arrangements with the district agriculturist for vaccination of their heifers, they may still do so providing they do not live in districts already covered and make applications at his office without delay.

Limits On B.C. Route Extended

EDMONTON — Increased truck load limits which went into effect in Alberta Jan. 1 have been extended to include the route from Edmonton to the British Columbia boundary via Whitecourt, Highways Minister Gordon Taylor announced.

The extension order also includes the Trans-Canada highway from Calgary to the Saskatchewan boundary. It means trucks with five axles and proper tires can carry 72,000 pounds instead of 62,000.

The increased limit which went into effect at the first of the year applied to the main south north artery from Coutts, on the U.S. border, north to Edmonton. The greater limit will remain in effect until March 15 unless the ground thaws before that time.

Peat Moss Sales Boom

MONCTON — An industry that defies automation is booming in the Maritime provinces and eastern Quebec.

In 1942 the production of peat moss was about 10,900 tons. In 1957 production climbed to 50,000 tons and shows no signs of stopping there.

J. E. McIntyre, CNR Atlantic region agricultural agent, says the growth due to new packaging methods and the use of new machinery to bale the moss.

The moss now is marketed in small plastic bags and distributed to chain stores throughout Canada and the United States.

Gardeners buy it to mix with their garden soil, thus adding humus and promoting growth. Peat moss is used for packing bulbs and roots in shipment and storage. It also has value as poultry litter, stable bedding and even insulation.

Mr. McIntyre says some bogs employ as many as 300 men during peak periods of cutting in spring, summer and fall. Most are employed on a piece-work basis and can make as much as $15 a day.

CENTRAL SALES AND SERVICE TO HOLD JOHN DEERE DAY

Joe and Mike Radmanovich, operators of Central Sales & Service, in Boyle, announce that Jan. 28 will be John Deere Day.

"We have lined up a full day of activity for all farmers and their families", Joe and Mike say. "There will be equipment demonstrations, lunch at noon, and of course a new film program. The wide variety of movie subjects includes features that are both entertaining and educational."

The new John Deere Grain Dryer will be introduced as part of the feature, "What's New for 1959". Guests will see step-by-step how this portable batchtype dryer works. All farmers will be interested in the film on John Deere multi-purpose sprayers, too. These units can be used for distributing liquid fertilizer and for spraying crops or livestock. Many other new and improved John Deere machines will be introduced, as well.

"This year's John Deere Day Program will include the greatest variety of entertainment we have ever shown," Joe and Mike explained. "We have a new Gordon Family film, a magic act, a movie visit to the John Deere Harvester plant, 'Oddities in Farming', two nationally famous vaudeville acts and plenty of colorful numbers by the John Deere Singers and Dancers."

A show in itself, "Oddities in Farming" concentrates on the unusual in harvesting, and takes John Deere guests to three different parts of the country, Florida, California and Wisconsin. One-of-a-kind harvesters and a product taken from the ocean make up an interesting film.

Another unusual outlook on harvesting will be shown with the full-color movie tour through the John Deere Combine plant. Assembly-line scenes will show just how the 95 Combines—biggest self-propelled units made—are built.

Novelty numbers and musical features round out the show to make it entertainment the whole family will enjoy.

"Tickets will be required this year," Joe and Mike added. Many farmers have received them through the mail, but there are extras available free at Central Sales and Service, for any who need them".

Wayne And Shuster Turn Down Offer

Canada's top comedy team, Wayne and Shuster, have turned down a bid to headline this year's show at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto because the money offered them is too low.

Frank Shuster said the sum was far below the $100,000 paid Danny Kaye and Bob Hope.

He added that the fee might have been good for acts which take only two-and-a-half weeks to work out but the famed comedy team would need four months to write and rehearse a completely new show.

Alberta Emergency Air Ambulance Service Taken Over By Health Dept.

The Emergency Air Ambulance Service provided by the Alberta government has been taken over by the Department of health from the Department of Public Welfare, effective this month. This change was indicated by the government during a discussion of the service at a session of the legislature last year.

The change recognizes the fact that most of the Emergency Air Ambulance flights have been made for accidents or illness relating more closely to the health field than that of public welfare. A special medical advisory committee has been set up by the Department of Health to conduct the Emergency Air Ambulance Service.

Seven exceptionally well qualified medical personnel constitute the committee. On the committee are Dr. Colin Ross, a well-known chest surgeon who, during the Second World War, had paratroop experience; Dr. R. F. Taylor, who has had a good deal of experience in respirator work in poliomyelitis cases; Dr. Lloyd Grisdale, specialist in children's diseases and who has assisted in developing new methods of saving premature babies; Dr. Douglas Ritchie, specialist in obstetrics and gynaecology; Dr. A. M. Edwards, specialist in anaesthesia and Dr. W. L. Falconer, the Regional Superintendent of the Charles Camsell Indian Hospital and who has had wide experience in evacuation of Indians and Eskimos from the far north due to illness or accident.

This committee has assisted Dr. M. G. McCallum, of the Medical Services Division of the Department of Health, in establishing a new program for the provision of Emergency Air Ambulance Service.

Special kits of equipment and medical supplies will be kept in readiness at the University Hospital and a telephone answering service will be used as the central telephone number for requests for an emergency air ambulance flight.

All medical and law enforcement personnel in Alberta have been notified of the central telephone number. A member of the University of Alberta medical staff will accompany the flight crew.

It is intended that chartered aircraft services will be utilized so that a variety of aircraft may be available according to the conditions of the site into which the flight is to be made and this also will allow a selection of flight personnel on the basis of their personal experience in flying into areas where flights are required.

A $25 charge will be made to the patient or the party responsible for the patient for any flight with the balance of the cost of the flight to be paid by the Department of Health.

It is intended that a proper screening of requests for flights will be made by the Department and its advisory committee, to eliminate as far as possible unnecessary use of the service and dangers to flight and medical personnel.

The excellent hospital facilities distributed throughout the province and the network of main highways, will in many cases, make it quicker and safer to use land transportation to move the patient or to have competent medical help, food and supplies sent to the patient.

MDA Asks Govt. Take Over Tax

EDMONTON — The Alberta Association of Municipal Districts in a brief to the provincial cabinet has approved in principle the proposal that the provincial government take over the assessment and taxation of industries in Alberta.

The cabinet was also requested to permit the use of purple gasoline in all trucks owned and operated by a municipal district or county. Only farm and highways department vehicles now are permitted this concession.

Ontario Gas Not To Be Rationed

EDMONTON — Premier E. C. Manning denied that Alberta has made representations on the possibility of rationing natural gas by Ontario.

He told a press conference that in discussions with Ontario on the use of natural gas Alberta suggested that gas not be used for purposes where another fuel would "be just as good."

Mr. Manning was commenting on statements made by A. R. Crozier, chairman of the Ontario fuel board. He said that there is a possibility of natural gas rationing in Ontario within the next seven years, and that representations for this move already have been made by Alberta.

Describing natural gas as a "premium" fuel because it can be transported easily by pipeline, he said it is "just a matter of using fuel that is just as good and keeping the premium fuel" for other uses.

HEALTH THROUGH CHIROPRACTIC

By DR. K. W. TENOVE, St. Paul

Jake is an old friend of ours who is probably the most stubborn man on earth. He is quite convinced that before any ideas or thing can have any merit it must have been accepted or used at least half a century ago. Anything developed since is merely a "new-fangled notion or gadget", and the way he spits the words out leaves no doubt in your mind as to what he thinks of them. Everything old is sacred to Jake: anything new is an abomination.

We know of only one, but there must be many Jakes in the world: people whose lives are spent struggling against acceptance of all the new and wonderful things that have been developed to make life easier for us. They seem to regard comfort and convenience as something short of sinful.

Chiropractic is a new road to health which was undreamed of in Jake's boyhood. He regards it as an invention of the devil to lure men away from the tried and true remedies of his mother's day. Yet, in the short space of 63 years, through research and experiment, Chiropractic has developed scientific principles which disprove many of Jake's ideas. Chiropractic principles are sound because they are founded upon the true cause of disease.

Chiropractors contend that disease is due not so much to an invasion from without as it is the result of a lack of resistance within. They concentrate on the nervous system, for it has been definitely established that a healthy nervous system maintains a healthy body.

If a spinal vertebra becomes misaligned, and causes pressure on the spinal cord, certain nerves become partially blocked, and the organs, glands and muscles dependent on these nerves cease to function properly. The body is thereby unable to resist invasion from without, and disease begins. The successful road to health begins with your first visit to your chiropractor.

Electrification Loans Hit $24,698,953

The provincial government has lent $24,698,953 for rural electrification since the inception of the Rural Electrification Revolving Fund in 1958 according to figures released by the provincial treasury.

Loans totalling $458,093 were made from the fund during Dec. 1958.

Repayments on the loans totalled $7,600,097 Dec. 31.

Of the original $20,000,000 provided by the fund, $2,901,144 remained available Jan. 1.
